Father's Day

When is Father's Day? Most of you maybe answer August 8th. People in Taiwan celebrate Father's Day on that day because the date sounds like "daddy" in Chinese. For Americans, however, Father's Day falls on the third Sunday in June.

As a study shows, it's easy for people to forget about Father's Day because they don't feel for their fathers as much as they do for their mothers. In fact, most fathers work long hours and seldom have a chance to play with their children. They also have a hard time showing their feelings to their children. So, how about preparing your father a nice gift and saying "thank you" to him this Father's Day?

June	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat
	2	3	4	5	6	7	1
	9	10	11	12	13	14	8
	16	17	18	19	20	21	15
	23	24	25	26	27	28	22
	30						29

35. Check the calendar. When is Father's Day in America this year ? (calendar 日曆)
(A) June 9th . (B) June 15th . (C) June 16th . (D) June 23rd .
36. What is "they" in the reading?
(A) Mothers. (B) Fathers. (C) Children. (D) Parents.
37. What do we know from the reading?
(A) Fathers show their feelings easily.
(B) Father's Day is close to Christmas Day in America.
(C) Father's Day is on the same day all over the world.
(D) Most people care about Mother's Day more than Father's Day.

Stores of the Future---Unmanned Stores

Lots of companies are opening unmanned stores now. Many people think about them. Are they really better than ordinary stores?

There are no clerks at an unmanned store. First , you need an account, the store will charge you. If you scan QR code on the glass of the unmanned store with your phone, you can sign up. The door will open for you. Inside, you do everything yourself. After picking the produces, go to the payment area. Scan the tag on the products, and the computer will charge your account. You can't pay in cash. They must use special accounts. If you don't pay or put back the products, the door won't open for you. Because there are cameras everywhere, the owner of the store is watching you.

However, service at an unmanned store is fast. Customers don't need to wait in line. They like that a lot. Also, unmanned stores only need workers to stock shelves. They need fewer workers. The stores are high-tech but also cheap to open. So we're going to see more and more of them.

How many “Good Morning!” come in your Line every day? A lot? However, it is not because you are popular. Some just like to start their day by firing off these colorful good morning pictures to everyone. It is common in many places, not only in Taiwan.

Sending these pictures seems to be a nice way to greet our loved ones, but this is also creating another trouble. Their friends and kids will receive these pictures every day. Google researchers found that most of the “good morning craze” often starts from the elders. It’s because that the elders have been trying very hard to keep up with the time, and there is nothing better than greeting people with colorful pictures and inspirational quotes on them.

Many people always send these messages in the early morning, and some of them will be unhappy that people don’t answer their greetings. Doesn’t this sound like what your elders would do?
